LA BUTTE AUX BOIS

One hundred years ago, a Belgian noble stumbled upon a curious little hill in the middle of the Lanaken woods. Being a huntsman, he was so taken by the remote, quiet location that he purchased the land to build a beautiful house on it. In the 1980s, this country estate became 'La Butte aux Bois'.

Nowadays, you will find the five-star superior hotel La Butte aux Bois right on the edge of National Park Hoge Kempen. Located in the middle of nature, the lush and leafy estate covers 12 hectares and offers a special habitat to wild boars and deer. The neighbouring park is home to robins, wild ducks, geese and various birds of prey.

Guests will find tranquility in romantically styled rooms or can take in the atmosphere of sustainable eco-design during an overnight stay.

There is an additional opportunity for relaxation in the Shiseido Institute, which offers a wide selection of massages as well as various body treatments, a wellness area with sun terrace, sauna, hammam and an indoor pool. Guests have access to our state-of-the-art gym for a daily work-out, can take yoga classes or test their fitness at a bootcamp.

The entrance to National Park Hoge Kempen is situated less than 100 metres from the hotel lobby and offers numerous hiking opportunities that are among the best in Europe. Regular bicycles, e-bikes, and mountainbikes are available for those who want to explore the beautiful countryside.

However, it's not only the surroundings that create a sense of calm. Boosting a contemporary design that subtly stimulates all the senses and the mind, La Butte aux Bois provides an altogether unique experience.

Exclusive natural objects, testimonies of our prehistoric past, create a palpable sense of timelessness. Works by contemporary artists join Granada Gallery's collection of minerals, fossils, and jewellery in creating a subtle patina of artistic and creative craftsmanship.

Last but not least, La Butte aux Bois evolved into a gastronomic destination. There is the internationally recognized, two-star Michelin restaurant Ralf Berendsen as well as the cosy bistrôt Le Ciel and bar Papillon.

A QUEST FOR PERFECTION THAT NEVER STOPS

Two star Michelin restaurant Ralf Berendsen offers a renovated and inviting lighting design as well as an alluring vista of the wine cellar.

Objects from the Earth, Moon and Mars join the ensemble, providing a unique, meditative visual.

Chef Ralf Berendsen creates new dishes with his reserves of creative talent. Now more than ever, he is committed to honouring the individuality of classic products such as scallops, langoustines, pigeon, Bresse duck or wagyu beef.

Famous for his unique sense of perfect cooking times, he achieves an absolute harmony in taste and juiciness. He also works as a qualified baker-pâtissier on an equally tempting repertoire of nostalgic desserts based on traditional French techniques. This all supported by a young team whose dedication to cooking transcends taste and embraces the emotional side of food.

“Franco-Belgian cuisine with global influences translated into dishes that are accessible and surprising.” That’s how Chef Pieter Beurskens describes Le Ciel’s cuisine.

The transparent interior features a subtropical tree that highlights the wealth of decorative objects in the space: ammolites, gogottes, crystals, minerals, petrified wood and gemstones made into jewellery by Jochen Leën. They are all natural and sophisticated references to our earth, whose distinctive presence permeates deep within La Butte aux Bois.

Of course, during good weather, you can also enjoy our open-air set-up with the new outdoor bar. The terrace, surrounded by greenery, is the ultimate spot for enjoying a cocktail or classic gin and tonic.

Our transformed cocktail bar is an oasis of inspiration and calm, the perfect place to feel, live, and dream in the moment. From the characteristic bar Papillon, you also have a view of bistrôt Le Ciel – the cozy heart of the hotel.

The gourmet bar menu features different champagnes served by the glass as well as a wide selection of cocktails. The bar also offers an exceptional whisky menu, including the entire repertoire of The Macallan, of which you can enjoy several exclusive references in a tasting flight.

GRANADA GALLERY.

Granada Gallery is definitely not your ordinary "Art" gallery.

A passion for science and the drive to promote research has always been the foundation of Granada Gallery. Over many years this led to a comprehensive fossil, mineral and gemstone collection, together with the acquisition of numerous fossil and mineral excavation sites all over the world. Merging these fields with art & design, showcasing nature as the ultimate creator, allows us to promote higher knowledge and education, sparked by curiosity and wonder.

Granada Gallery moves with ease between the worlds of science, art and design. Over the last several years they have been a fixed feature in shows and pop-ups surrounding Art Basel Miami, TEFAF Maastricht, or at events such as Summit LA and Bombay Beach Biennale.

Working with artists from all over the world, the concept is to blend geological relevance with contemporary design objects and modern art with the breathtaking memory of evolution.

This is where the link between Granada Gallery and Jochen Leën connects - the world of precious stones. Jochen Leën uses only the rarest and most desirable gemstones known to the human eye, many of which can be found in the portfolio of Granada Gallery.
